ters, have sent the following telegram:

WASHINGTON, March 14.
CAPTAIN W. L. COUCH, Arkansas City, Kansas:

The president is of the opinion that further negotiations with the Creek and Seminole, as contemplated by the recent action of congress, is necessary to authorize a settlement of Oklahoma. His proclamation yesterday is intended to effect the cattle syndicates on the one hand and to suspend on the other the settlement of the country. Pending negotiations we have earnestly urged upon the secretary of the interior, in view of the exigencies of the situation, to proceed at once to conclude negotiations and place upon the commission, a representative of settlers. We deem it best for all parties to wait the contemplated action. It must be understood that the corrupt conspiracy by which the lands in the Oklahoma country and whole Indian territory have been illegally occupied by cattle kings is strongly defended here by powerful financial influences. This conspiracy has been for years, and is now represented here, by persons holding high positions in the government. These men having access to the avenues of public opinion and the privilege of constant communication with all the departments of the government are persistent in the misrepresentation. They who attack here, any of the great wrongs which have fanned themselves upon the government, undertake a task of great magnitude; but we shall continue to urge with confidence upon President Cleveland's administration, a removal of the bad policy of former years. The only safety for the people is sharply defined by the public opinion arising above all party distinctions and demanding that the public domain shall be held sacred as a heretofore for actual settlers.

The Senate.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—Mr. Blair offered a resolution authorizing the continuation of the investigation of the differences between capital and labor. He said the investigation was practically concluded and the extension was practically the making of a report. Under the objection of Cockrell, consideration was postponed until to-morrow.

Van Wyck's Backbone railroad resolution was laid before the senate and Enetta made a speech upon it.

The senate confirmed Gen. J. C. Black as commissioner of pensions.

A Defect Declared.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
HARLAN, Montana, March 16.—The county commissioners of Lewis and Clark counties, assisted by experts, during the past two weeks, have been making an examination of the accounts of W. K. Roberts, county clerk, Alexander H. Benzie, clerk of the district court, and P. P. Sterling, the probate judge. The county commissioners in the case of Roberts, declare there is an apparent deficit of $38,000, which amount is demanded from his bondsmen. Roberts declares that there is no deficit and the result is looked forward to with great interest. The accused has stood high in the estimation of the people.

Brooks and Dickson's Sale.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
New York, March 16.—The partnership of Brooks & Dickson, theatrical managers, has been sold at auction. Theatrical managers, speculators and costumers crowded the rooms. Harry Miner bought many office fixtures for the rooms of the Actors' Fund in Union Square, besides sailing down for his own use in his theaters a good many things handy to have in the property man's room.

The manuscript parts and music of "In the Banks" went to Mr. French for $5.75. "Touch and Go," by Matthews & Benner, went to Mr. Joel Fox for $50. "The Merry Dances" went to J. K. Nest for $10. "La Charbonniere" manuscript parts and music, with rights to produce was bought by Mr. Roberts for 60 cents. "Honi-Sort" a manuscript play, with rights to produce, was started at the upset price of $2,000, but was withdrawn. The original score of Stevens & Solomon's "Virginia" went to Harry Miner for $5. The sale brought Brooks & Dickson about $2,500. Mr. Brooks said this represented an outlay of $50,000.

The Missouri Pacific Striking Shopmen to Return to Work at the Old Wages.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
St. Louis, March 15.—The conference appointed to be held here between the officials of the Missouri Pacific railway company and the governor's and other representatives of the states of Missouri and Kansas on the subject of the strike ending on the company's lines took place this afternoon. After a long discussion, during which the situation was fully set forth, the representatives of the two states formulated a proposition, which was immediately accepted by the railway officials. Subsequently Vice President Hayes issued a circular, which has been sent to the officers and agents of the company at all the affected points and which tells the whole story, as follows:

CIRCULAR.
The following suggestions have been presented to the undersigned as a solution of the difficulties at present impeding operations on these railroads. To Capt. R. H. Hayes, First Vice-President and Chief Executive Officer of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company and associated roads:
Whereas, on account of the strike among certain employees of the Missouri Pacific railway company in the states of Missouri and Kansas, resulting in the stoppage of all freight traffic over the said company's lines in said states to the great detriment to business interests and rights of the people of said states, and the continuance of which endangers the public place and the safety of the company's property, and

Whereas, the undersigned representing the states above named are anxious to restore harmonious relations between the said company and its employees, and to restore to the public unobstructed use of said lines of railroad, do recommend and request the said company to restore to its striking employees in Missouri and Kansas the same wages paid them in September 1884, including one and one-half price for extra time worked, and to restore all said striking employees to their several employments without prejudice to them on account of the strike. Believing that the foregoing will constitute a just and fair settlement, we recommend their acceptance by the striking employees as well as by the Missouri Pacific Railway company.
(Signed) JOHN A. MARTIN, Governor of Kansas. JOHN S. MARMONKE, Governor of Missouri. L. S. TURNER, L. G. GULLETTE, JAS. HUMPHREY, Railroad Commissioners of Kansas. W. G. DOWLING, JAS. HARDING, GEO. C. PRATT, Railroad Commissioners of Missouri. B. G. BOONE, Attorney General of Missouri. J. C. JAMISON, Adjutant General. OSCAR KOCHTZEY, Commissioner of Labor Statistics.

With a desire to concur with the recommendations expressed above by the state officials and to open the usual avenues of commerce and with a spirit of amity and harmony toward the employees of these companies, this is to give notice that the rates of wages and terms above specified will go into effect Monday morning, March 16th, and be in effect from and after that date. Hereafter said rates will not be changed except after thirty days' notice thereof being given in the usual way.
(Signed) R. S. HAYES, First Vice President. Heads of the departments to which the above applies will act in accordance with the provisions of the above circular.
(Signed) H. M. HOXIE, Third Vice President.

A COOL RECEPTION.
Specials from different points west and south state that the strikers received vice-President Hayes' circular very coldly. Meetings were held at various places to-night, but so far as reported no definite action was taken. The men say they will meet again to-morrow and determine what they will do. It was stated here to-day by one of the railroad commissioners present at the conference that the strike has been engineered from Pittsburg, and that all orders have originated from there, and that the Knights of Labor have directed and contracted all movements of the men.

It was learned to-night that over 2,000 loaded freight cars on the Missouri Pacific side tracks between here and Sedalia are ready to move when the strike is ended. The company has taken freight all week, and has loaded a large number of cars gathered here to send out after grain, and as fast as they have been filled they will be made up into trains and sent to different points on the line where they will remain in charge of their crews, ready to start for their destination the moment the trouble is over.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 15.—This evening, about 9:30, the Wabash STRIKERS STOPPED a freight train which attempted to go out from here. The intention is to stop all freight trains. The company now propose to move trains on the St. Louis branch in order to avoid this place. The strikers simply went on the engine and requested the engineer to take the engine back into the yard, which he did. The strikers are watching all trains coming here in order to prevent the importation of men.

KANSAS CITY, March 15.—The Missouri Pacific strikers here will AWAIT ORDERS from the general committee before returning to work. The local committee at midnight was still in telegraphic communication with that committee at Sedalia. It is understood that the strikers before accepting the terms of the compromise are considering several proposed stipulations. One that the restoration shall extend to all strikers in the Gould system; another that the engineers who were relieved for abandoning engines at the request of the strikers will be restored, and several minor stipulations.

SECRET SESSIONS.
St. Louis, March 15.—A special dispatch from Sedalia says: "The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held a long secret session there yesterday afternoon, but the precise nature of the proceedings are not known. It is asserted, however, that after the session adjourned Mr. Fitzgerald, chairman of the grievance committee of the brotherhood, telegraphed the members of the executive committee of the brotherhood at St. Louis, Little Rock, Atchison, Parsons, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Palestine, Marshall, Denison, Big Springs and other points on the Gould system, to meet at the Laclede hotel, St. Louis, to-morrow (Monday) for a conference. Mr. Arthur, chief engineer of the brotherhood, was also telegraphed. This action is regarded as an indication that unless the recent trouble with the shopmen is speedily adjusted the engineers will join them. The brakemen and firemen held a formal meeting also, but keep their own counsel. It is believed that they have matured plans to co-operate with the engineers whenever the latter decide to take action.

By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
St. Louis, March 16.—Up to noon to-day nothing has been received here from the striking points on the Missouri Pacific railroad indicating definitely whether the strikers will accept the terms of Vice President Hayes' circular as a solution of their troubles and return to work. Dispatches received from a few points dated last night show that some men, as individuals, view the circular favorably, but the managing commissioners at various points hold off and will give no directions until instruction comes from Sedalia. At one or two points in Texas trains have been made up and moved, and at Hannibal, Mo., three trains are said to have been sent out, but so far no general action has been taken and everybody is waiting advice from the headquarters at Sedalia. St. Louis, March 16.—The Missouri Pacific officials here state the strikers at Sedalia, Parsons, Denison and Atchison refuse to return to work unless a written guarantee is given not to discharge any of the strikers within one year from this date. At other places the men all returned to work. No action has yet been taken by the railroad officials.

Trouble at Springfield.

SPRINGFIELD, March 16.—Wabash strikers tried to stop the switch engines this morning but a deputy United States marshal was immediately placed on each engine. This ended that trouble. The company offered to restore old rates to the strikers and two o'clock this afternoon was set for a conference on the proposition. KANSAS CITY, March 16.—Missouri Pacific strikers here, are still out. No freight trains moved to-day. ATCHISON, Kas., March 16.—The local committee declared the terms of settlement accepted and the railroad strike is ended. SEDALIA, March 16.—Strike is ended but the terms of settlement are not accepted because not understood. Trains will move to-night.

Wages Restored.
By Telegram to THE SENTINEL.
St. Louis, March 16.—General Manager Talmage, of the Wabash railway, telegraphed this morning to the heads of the machinery and car departments of the entire road, stating that wages would be restored at once to the figures existing before the recent cut of 10 per cent.

"When Whalbone Howler comes to me an' asks for de loan of a dollar I believe him honest and truthful an' upright, but I take his notes for thirty days, jus' de same. If I didn't he might be tempted to let me outar it. It an my dooty to see dat he doan't drop any of his vartue by de way-side."

"I doan't 'peck to find de truth in every body. I doan't 'peck to find all men honest. Some men kin sholder about two de cardinal virtues an' walk frow life all right, but when you add another you an gwine to break 'em down. While we may consider all men fairly honest we musn't advertise $20 reward for $20 lost yesterday an' 'peck de finder to hide a street hvar in his hurry to restore de lost cash. While we may reasonably expect all men to speak de truth, we ain't gwine to get rich outar cashin' checks for strangers nor bellowin' what we read on de circus posters."

"Is ben turnin' de matter ober an' ober in my min' frow de many y'ars past, an' I have come to de fixed conclusion dat de right way am far to regard all men as straight, but to keep yer eye peeled frow defects. Let us now open on de 36th degree an' purposed wid de purcedence."

Restaurant Rapid Transit.
(Chicago News.)

"Waiter," said a gentleman who had ordered his dinner at a fashionable restaurant some time in the dim past, "will you send out for paper and ink and a notary and two witnesses?"

"What for, sah?"

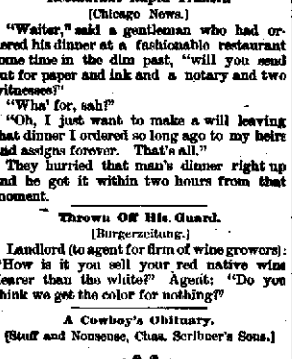

"Oh, I just want to make a will leaving that dinner I ordered so long ago to my heirs and assigns forever. That's all."

They hurried that man's dinner right up and he got it within two hours from that moment.

Thrown Off His Guard.
(Burglar's Journal.)

Landlord (to agent for firm of wine growers): "How is it you sell your red native wine dearer than the white?" Agent: "Do you think we get the color for nothing?"

A Cowboy's Chit-chat.
(Stuff and Nonsense, Chas. Scribner's Sons.)

"Now hang me," this wild cowboy said, "I'll rush in and paint the town red."

But alas for his plan, He encountered a man, Who buried him—'cause he was dead.

A Kentucky Christian.
(Kentucky State Journal.)

"Not a Christian, sir; did you say he was not a Christian?"

"So I've always believed, Mr. Blogg."

"Then there's where you've always got left."

"Does he attend divine service regularly?"

"Perhaps not. But this I do know, He regulates his watch by St. Paul's church clock every morning. He told me so himself. Not a Christian, indeed!"

Gravestone Advertisements.

Two meditative beings strolled thoughtfully through the avenues of Greenwood Cemetery as amicably inclined as a Frenchman and American can be, and apparently determined that difference of opinion should never alter friendship. "You have got the reputation," said the Gaul, thoughtfully, "of being a people keenly alive to the value of advertisement. I think you are. But I beg to state that you do not go as far as we Parisians. You stop at the churchyard. In Paris they are our great field for advertisement."

The American begged that this condition of things might be explained, and the Frenchman begged that he might explain them at the same time. "In Paris la Chaise," said the Gaul, "which, as everybody knows, is the world-renowned cemetery of Paris, you may always see a crowd of people whose presence there is at first inexplicable. They wear no hat-bands, and are consequently not in mourning. They are not intensely jolly, and can not, therefore, be mistaken for undertakers. They seem to go nowhere and to do nothing, but pretty soon their work there is discovered. In inspecting the principal monuments—say those erected to Rossini, Auber, Heloise et Abielard, Thiers, and Raspail—a state of things is found which is at once astonishing, and I might even say disgraceful; but I won't, because it would not be patriotic. These tombs are literally covered from top to bottom with cards. At first you are inclined to suppose that on these cards are scriptural maxims or adages appropriate to the mournful occasion. Not a bit of it. You learn that the exquisite monuments are simply made into gigantic posters for advertisements, to be used much in the same manner as dead walls. On Raspail's tomb you will see 'Elegant bottines can be obtained from M. A. No. 20 Rue...' 'M. B., wine merchant;' 'Mme. C., midwife;' 'Mlle. D., costume-maker;' and so on. In all cases the addresses are given and the cards firmly fixed so that a hurricane could not blow them away. Don't imagine that you see one, two, three, or four cards. The tombs are positively white with them, and they are considered so much of an institution that they are hardly noticed by well-bred Parisians. I suppose the scheme was originally commenced by the undertakers of the Rue de la Roquette, just outside Paris la Chaise, who placed the advertisements relating to their immortal wreaths and coronnes on the monuments, and thought there was nothing inappropriate in their so doing."

"Nothing inappropriate?" queried the American, indignantly.

"Not according to their standpoint," was the answer. "Well, that paved the way for others, you know, and though I am quite sure that well-educated and thoughtful Parisians think of the nuisance in the same light that you do, nothing is done to prevent it, and the thing is kept up just as though it were one of our institutions. It strikes every visitor to Paris, but I do not remember ever having seen it publicly noticed."—New York Times.

Keep Looking Young.

This is the age of young men. Other things being equal they are everywhere preferred. Save your young looks. It means position and money. Is your hair falling off—dry or lustreless? Preserve and beautify it by using Parker's Hair Balsam. Not an oil, not a dye, sure to work, clean, harmless. Restores color.

100 MUCH CARE.

"Jenny, I'm not a bit disposed to be fault-finding, you know; but when even the neighbors get to saying that you don't take good care of me, I think I'm justified in opening my own lips."

"Nonsense, John! What are you talking about? Didn't you read me about two months ago a long article showing that too much care will kill a man? You just go down cellar and bring me up another hod of coal."

The Heart Bowed Down by Weight of Wee.

That is to say, the mournful heart of the suffering woman who is burdened with dyspepsia and agonized with torment during weary nights of sleeplessness. Such a woman needs kind friends, hearty sympathy and Brown's Iron Bitters. A. A. Mantus, Marshall, Texas, writes, "My wife has been entirely cured of dyspepsia and general debility by using Brown's Iron Bitters." Good news for the weary heart.

It is said that chewing gum will cure dyspepsia; but what will cure chewing gum?—Boston Post.

Coffees, Teas and Sugars.

Our Tea Trade is continually growing. We now sell as much Tea in a month as we formerly did in a year, and there is no secret about it. It is simply giving our customers the most we can for their money and the best Tea at low prices. The reason we can do this is we purchase in large lots direct of the Importers and then sell direct to our customers, thereby saving them the intermediate profits of the speculator jobber and the wholesale merchant, which is 20 to 25 per cent. on the dollar.

Marshal Meyer to-day banished a gang of crooks from the city. The fellows dress well and pose in front of gambling houses, but their toes didn't hide their rascality from the marshal, who accompanied them to the train at noon.

Master Clint Collins, who is the champion roller skater of the world, will appear at the Academy rink Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. Saturday occurs the gay children's carnival and the play house will not hold the visitors.

Lafayette Courier: "Laz Hirsh returned to-day from New York, where he has been the past three weeks. While there he attended the meeting of the Constitution grand lodge, I. O. B. B., to which he was a delegate." Mr. Hirsh is related here, his wife being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Lanferty.

This morning an aged couple staggered into the county clerk's office and insisted on getting a marriage license. The people were too drunk to tell their names, and Deputy Clerk Kern refused to issue papers. "Come on (hie), Sally, we'll (hie) go to Michigan," and they rolled out and climbed onto a street car. The man said he was a soldier and lived near town.

Another economical streak has come over the officials of the American Express company, and a reduction in wages is again intimated, and will, of course, effect Fort Wayne. Dull business is the reason assigned for making a reduction. The employees say this might be all right if the express companies would advance salaries when business is good, but they never think of doing that.

The following list of letters remain uncalled for in the Fort Wayne postoffice for the week ending March 16, 1886: Mrs. L. Armstrong, J. Aspaugh (2), Mrs. Cora H. Baker, James Bass, M. L. Baker, Marcissus Bushen, Maggie Cushman, Samuel Crum, Mrs. Ruth Durnal, Mrs. J. Edinger, Katie Drexler, Perry Fulkerson, Eva Gaylord, C. Mort Gardener, Gus Howard, Christ Higgins, L. B. Jackson (2), W. Kintz, Lang Ed Kimball, John Kochoer, Emilio Mear, Mrs. M. S. Lemon, Mrs. O. Miller, M. C. Miller, Collie Murphy, John G. Overley, Mr. Clara Parker, H. L. Rheinstrom, W. D. Robinson, August Roth, Mort Litterer, Daniel Sheridan, C. E. Sapp, L. Van Buren, Thomas Wheeler, Thomas Wells, Myron Weeks.

The raging snow storm and clouds for a time obscured the eclipse, which attracts universal attention to-day. The phenomenon should have been visible here at 10:55 this morning. The M. E. college telescope was pointed to the sun and field glasses and smoked glass, equally as effective, could at first but faintly detect the annular eclipse. The phenomenon is termed "annular" from the Latin word "Annulus," which means a ring. The eclipse of the sun is caused by the moon passing between the earth and the sun, or, nearly on, the same plane with these bodies. The plane of the moon's path is at a small angle with that of the earth, so that the moon is sometimes quite above or below the plane of the earth's orbit, but as the moon crosses the earth's plane twice in each lunation, it sometimes happens that it does so when the sun is in the same longitude, or in a direct line with the earth and the moon; and the moon being between the earth and the sun hides the latter, in whole or in part, from a portion of the earth. It does not hide the sun from all parts of the earth, because the moon is very near as compared with the sun, as well as very small, and, a little away from the direct line, is seen either above or below the sun.

The path of the annulus began about two thousand miles due west from San Francisco and ended in the Arctic ocean just east of Greenland, and about 18 degrees from the pole. It struck the Pacific coast in latitude 40, and ran northeast through California, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, crossing the 49th parallel or boundary line of the British possessions and the United States in longitude 106 degrees from Greenwich (or 29 degrees from Washington), and cut in twain Hudson bay, and thence to the terminus already noted.

The breadth of this central path in which the annulus is visible is not far from forty miles, varying with the obliquity of the earth's surface to the axis of the shadow cone, which the moon projects into space toward the earth.

The sun's distance from the earth at the time of the eclipse being 91,838,438 miles, and the moon's distance from the earth being 238,450 miles, the length of the moon's shadow is found, by simple computation, to be 230,186 miles, leaving about 8,000 miles as the distance of the vertex of the cone, or the point where the shadow ceases, from the earth's center.

THE COURT HOUSE.

Daily Record of Litigation in Various Courts and the News of the County Office.

Nicholas Colson has sued Fred Falsing for $100. P. B. Colerick is attorney for the claimant.

The county commissioners were in session to-day. Saturday they established the Wilbur ditch, in Milan township.

Fred B. Johnson and Miss Estella Mays, Charles Taylor and Elizabeth Burkholder have been licensed to wed.

Thomas Mulbren has sued Peter Blessing et al. for $500. Colerick & Oppenheim and A. H. Bittinger appear for the plaintiff.

Judge Hench granted G. H. Wilson, administrator for Malinda Armstrong, a judgment for $1,285.08 against James W. S. Swann.

The matter of establishing the Walker ditch, situated in Scipio township, has been appealed to the supreme court. There is a political fight over the drain.

The city real estate transfers are as follows: Montgomery Hamilton to John H. Lange, lot 143, Hamilton's fourth addition, $1,800; Hannah and T. Linsky to Dan McLain, lot 35, Hanna & Fisher's addition, $2,000; Dan McLain to Theodore Linsky, same property, $2,000; Carrie McCulloch to George W. Long, lots 10 and 11, Ewing's addition, consideration not given.

OUR TEACHERS IN CONCLAVE.

An institute of the teachers of Wayne township was held at schoolhouse No. 4, on Saturday, March 14.

Trustee Gaffney took the chair. Miss Eliza Gaffney was elected secretary, and C. Methley was appointed to report the proceedings for THE SENTINEL. Trustee Gaffney's opening address was received with marked favor. He said that such meetings have the effect of improving the teachers, of causing a larger attendance at the schools, and of bringing the system of education before the parents, and further urged upon all to endeavor to make township institutes a success. The first subject discussed was arithmetic, by Mr. Philley, who took a class in interest. Miss Probasco introduced a class in grammar from her school, and N. D. Doughman, of the New Haven schools, took a recitation in fractions. All of these subjects were very ably handled by the teachers. An essay on history by Miss Carrie Green was very good. Miss Bessie Hamilton took botany for her subject, and Miss Eliza Gaffney, "The Wonders of Heat." These are subjects not usually introduced at township institutes and show that the trustee has been wise in his selection of teachers. C. Methley explained the new globes lately introduced into the township schools.

The music and literary exercises were very fine. Miss Addie Gaffney, gave recitations in fine style; Misses Sadie Fairfield and Louise Rockhill, of Lake township, also highly entertained the audience, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and family, of Wayne township, were, as usual, of great assistance.

Clyde and Arthur Corlett, Helen and Willie McKean and Chauncey Rousseau, scholars attending the school, did remarkably well.

The attendance was the largest of any institute held this year, and the exercises and entertainment reflect great credit on Miss Gaffney, the teacher of the school.

The Wabash Strike.

The strike is unchanged save that the idle workmen are more numerous. But five men reported for duty this morning and the shops are almost as silent as a graveyard. The strikers held a meeting this morning and decided not to stop the trains or interfere with the rights of the railroad company. When the strikers read the telegram in THE SENTINEL elsewhere from General Manager Talmage, restoring old wages, they will probably go to work.

Mr. C. L. Wellington, assistant general freight agent of the Wabash road, has sent the following notice: "To Merchants and the Shipping Public: To correct an erroneous impression that seems to prevail, owing to mistaken utterances of the press, I take this method of advising you that this company has not been and is not interfered with in any many in handling freight. We were never in better condition in every respect to receive, forward and deliver promptly all freight shipments than we are at present and I assure our patrons that no delays need be feared on our lines."

Henry Nolan, James Carroll, Charles Barrett and Wm. Connors, drunken tramps, were before the mayor this morning. Saturday afternoon these vagabonds insulted people in the east end. Marshal Dick Meyer went out there and had a desperate fight with the men. The officer downed the four men single handed and marched them to the cooler. Marshal Meyer is good natured and has a heart as kind as a girl, but he is a lion when aroused and the tramps gracefully acknowledge the fact.

To-morrow is St. Patrick's day and the weather announces the event with customary violence. The day in Fort Wayne will be quietly observed. High mass will be celebrated at the Cathedral in the morning and in the evening Rev. P. P. Cooney, O. S. C., a celebrated pulpit orator, will lecture at Library hall, taking for his subject "The Battle of Life and the Irish Race."

Workmen are laying the ash floor in Foote & O'Connor's magnificent rink. The resort will probably be opened Saturday. Ed Noll, a gentlemanly young man, will assist Al Foote in the management of the skating exercises. The visitors will lead the grand march, which will be limited to ten minutes. Spiegel's orchestra will furnish music especially written for skating rinks.

A Western Base Ball Association. By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

ST. LOUIS, March 15.—Preliminary steps were taken here to-day to organize a National Association base ball club. The scheme is said to form clubs in leading cities in the west, and organize on a very liberal basis, ignore all the rules specially obnoxious to players and public and utilize players disqualified under the national agreement rules.

Grover's Condolence. By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

BUFFALO, March 15.—The following telegram was received by Mrs. McCune:

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 15. To Mrs. C. W. McCune, Buffalo, N. Y.:

I extend to you my heartfelt condolence and sympathy and if it were possible I should attend the sad exercises appointed for Monday next. [Signed] GROVER CLEVELAND.

STAGE TALK.

Mr. Louis Aldrich has a new drama called "The New Dominion."

THE Hanlons have a new and unnamed piece for next season. Miss Clara Louise Kellogg is so ill that she has withdrawn from the concert field.

LYDIA THOMPSON, according to a story published in New York, will revisit this country next year, playing in light comedy after the manner of Aimée.

At San Francisco the seats for Her Majesty's Opera season were sold at public auction, and realized $20,000 in premiums. Mrs. Theresa Fair bought the first box for $158.

Mr. ROUCAULT is dramatizing Ouida's novel, "Two Little Wooden Shoes," for the tour next season of his daughter Nina and his son "Dot." A new adaptation of the French play "La Jeunesse de Richelieu" is also being made for their use.

SARAH BERNHARDT gets $300 a day for acting. Of this her creditors take $180, leaving her but $120. Her table costs her $20 a day and fuel and lights about $5 more. Her carriage hire—she has sold her own equipages—comes to $8 a day, and cosmetics, including rouge $5 more.

WHEN the people in Winamac, Indiana, assembled at the local theater to see the "Lights of London" and found that a cheap magic-lantern entertainment was to be palmed off upon them they rose in a body and seized the agents of the show, who only escaped a cold bath in the river by the timely arrival of the Sheriff and his posse.

ROBERT BURNS' birthday was celebrated in London by a concert by her Majesty's Scots Guards at the Royal Albert Hall. Mrs. Patey, Miss Davies, Stines Reeves, and Mr. Stanley, with Mrs. Sterling and Mr. Loyd, gave a program of Scotch songs. It was considered quite a musical event to the lovers of Scotch songs, and the great hall was filled to overflowing.

Most theater-goers will remember the huge posters of the "New Magdalen," where Mary Merrick is depicted groveling at the feet of the Rev. Julian Gray, who, with upturned eyes and elevated arms, is exhorting her to "rise up." When the company was at Brighton the billsticker saw his chance, and the following exhortation (thanks to his arrangement of the bills) met the gaze of the astonished Brightonians: "Rise up, poor wounded heart, and take your place among the noblest of heaven's creatures for six nights and one morning only, commencing June 21!"—Paris Morning News.

London Dispatch: "The Hunchback" was produced at the Lyceum Theatre with Miss Mary Anderson as Julia and in the presence of a large and brilliant audience. Miss Anderson appeared somewhat cold and stiff in the earlier scenes, but became impassioned as the play proceeded, and her delineation of the character was soon recognized as an artistic success. She was called before the curtain twice at the end of each act, and was greeted with enthusiastic applause. Miss Bells Pateman's Helen was superb, and Mr. William Terriss made a splendid Clifford. The staging of the piece was gorgeous, and the women of the audience went into raptures over Miss Anderson's seventeenth-century dresses.

EVERYBODY who has seen "Hazel Kirk" has observed the queer old coat Mr. Coudock wears. It has an exceptional history among stage coats, which, according to Mr. Coudock himself, is as follows: Thirty-four years ago he was engaged to play the old farmer in "The Willow Copse," with Mrs. Celeste. The actress wanted the part dressed in hunting-suit with a hunting jacket, but this did not suit Mr. Coudock's notions, and he cast about for a better costume. In rummaging around in the property-room of the old Walnut Street Theater, Philadelphia, he found a gray drab coat, which hit his fancy at once as being the very thing. He took it and wore it, and it was a hit at once. When the engagement ended at the theater, Coudock told the managers he wanted that coat. The manager replied that he did not care for it, only he was responsible for all of the properties in the inventory of the house, and he would have to answer for the coat. The actor looked over the list, and saw that "one gray drab coat" was called for. He went to a second-handed clothing store, bought a cheap coat answering the description, and hung it up in the property-room in place of the other. He used the coat through "The Willow Copse," which had an immense run, as old theater-goers will remember, and also played in it all through "Hazel Kirk," and it appeared in several other plays where it could be made to fit. It isn't often that a "property" coat comes to such lasting honor.

JOHN B. FOX, the Baltimore and Washington manager, says: "I have managed all the Booths and I regard Wilkes as the greatest of them all. He had more physical beauty and intellectual power than any of them. As Raphael in the 'Marble Heart,' he was the greatest that was ever seen, and his 'Richard III.' has never been approached. Yet you remember I speak of him as a young man just commencing his career as an actor when he died."
